Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the large estate of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers' and grandmothers' never thought of using anything else for Indigestion or Biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied, there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by H. C. Crute.

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Chinese are dangerous enemies, for they are treacherous. That's why all counterfeits of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve are dangerous. They look like DeWitt's, but instead of the all-healing witch hazel they all contain ingredients liable to irritate the skin and cause blood poisoning. For piles, injuries and skin diseases, use the original and genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Winston Drug Co.

BRIEFS AND PERSONALS.

Exit in the shadow alone, sweetheart,
Your roses are scenting the air,
And I dream of our love-troth long ago
Down in the garden there,
Margot, to my honey, prince's feather,
Bowed low in the dim, soft light,
As under the willow tree by the gate,
I kissed you, and said, "Good night."

Oh! sweetheart mine, with the pale, mute lips,
The clouds were dark and the skies were fair,
But you forever were true,
And now as I sit in the dark alone,
I would give the world to know
The way through the years to that far-off field.

Where similes for heartaches grow,
Love fades, they say, when the pulse is old,
And I am three score and ten,
But what I have learned with its bitter loss
Lies far beyond their ken;
For tomorrow they hide you away sweet,
heart,

In the graveyard under my sight,
So I heap the roses—God's roses—round you,
And kiss you and say, "Good night."

Monday next will be Prince Edward county court day.

We were treated yesterday to four of the famous Carter melons, raised by Mr. Amos, of Cumberland. It has been rare this season that a good melon was seen, but these were in all respects the equal of any we have had in favorable seasons, and by long odds the shapeliest and most delicious eaten this year.

HERALD and World only $1.00.

The Farmers' Institute.

As previously announced in the columns of the HERALD, this body met in the Courthouse at Farmville, on last Friday at 10 a. m., and was promptly organized by the selection of Mr. J. N. Morton, as Chairman, and Mr. Jno. Gilliam, as Secretary.

There were present from a distance Commissioner of Agriculture G. W. Koerner, Prof. S. Heiges and Mr. S. F. Barber, of Pennsylvania, and Mr. E. Barker, of Henry county, Va.

Judge Crute in a few well chosen words, made the speech of welcome, to which Commissioner Koerner appropriately responded. Without further preliminaries the business program was at once taken up, and Mr. L. B. Walthall, one of Prince Edward's most successful tobacco growers, read an interesting and instructive paper on the culture and curing of that, to this county, most important crop.

He spoke from experience, was attentively listened to and no doubt gave useful suggestions to his brother farmers. He prefers to plant from the 1st to 20th of June, from 6 to 8 inches above the level of the ground, in rows running North and South, to house promptly, to cure carefully, handle thoughtfully, and from start to finish to manage well.

He was followed by Mr. Barker, one of the large and prosperous farmers of Henry county, who, though introduced to talk with special reference to the growth and management of bright tobacco, took occasion to discuss the all-around duties of farmers, and offered advice of most practical and useful kind. He laid great stress on the necessity and value of diversified farming; said he never bought a bushel of corn or bale of hay in his life and that the most effective method for the farmers to "tighten up" was to be sure to have enough to eat at home for man and beast.

He emphasized the importance of the corn crop, and boldly affirmed, that which the HERALD has so persistently contended for, that as good crops of corn can be raised on Prince Edward lands as on those of the valley. Deep breaking up and then reasonably shallow plowing for the corn crops he impressed on his audience. Mr. Barker has only grown bright or fancy tobacco, and his suggestions were on that line, though in many particulars he agreed with the views of Mr. Walthall.

This Henry county farmer looks like a prosperous one, cheerful, hopeful, genial and a worker. He has no respect for the farmer afraid of cold or heat, too fond of the goods box in front of the store or of politics, nor for the man who doesn't lighten the household burdens of the good wife.

He believes in home canning, but has contempt for the man who won't gather the fruit and put it in reach of those who are to do the rest of the work.

The talk of Mr. Barker, (he more than once said, "I am no speaker.") was a valuable contribution to the farming literature of our day.

At the close of his address, Major A. R. Venable expressed the thanks of all present, and then offered a resolution asking that Prince Edward's claims for an Experimental Station with special reference to tobacco culture should be properly considered by the committee having charge of the matter of its location. Mr. Barker, as member of that committee, gave assurance that this would be done.

After dinner Prof. S. B. Heiges of Pennsylvania, a scholar and a farmer of practical experience, addressed the meeting on the mode of planting and caring for the orchard.

As to position he prefers upland to lowland, and recommended a Southern exposure until Major Venable reminded him that the Northern was best for this section, and having heard the reasons of the Major agreed with him. He recommended land not too rich, but believes in keeping the trees well worked and well manured, preferring barn yard manure, and not placed immediately around the body of the tree, but in a circle covered by the drooping limbs. Trees should not be allowed to be broken down with fruit, but the fruit should be thinned by pulling. Forty apple trees to the acre, cultivated every year, but not in corn, rye, or any tall growth, and there should be a crop well high every year. Frost will sometimes kill, and rain will sometimes drown out, but with these exceptions the crop should be certain, and no "off years."

Mr. S. F. Barber, also of Pennsylvania, then took up the subject of dairying, making a most sensible, practical and interesting address.

He has succeeded in the business because he has learned a good cow from a bad one, and knows how to care for them. Clover hay is a pet grass with him, and a mixture of wheat bran with corn or oats he uses profitably.

The Institute was continued over from Friday and opened on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, Mr. W. A. Barrow making the first address.

He discussed the labor system, deplored its failures and recommended reforms. To employ hands only by the year, only those who came endorsed by a reputable farmer, to divide labor into four grades and to ask for legislation to aid the farmers of the State in enforcing just and reasonable labor laws.

Commissioner Koerner followed with an admirable address on the general subject of fertilizers, in which he emphasized the fact that under the present State laws no farmer need buy a wasteful manure, and that he held himself in readiness to give such information as would protect them.

Prof. Heiges was introduced again and gave a practical talk on the enemies to orchard life, dividing them into two classes, insects and fungi. The one he would treat with a copper wire, the other with approved sprays.

Mr. T. O. Sandy, one of our successful farmers, was then presented to the audience to discuss the general farmer, or all-around farming in this section, and read one of the most sensible and practical papers of the entire meeting.

He began by saying that the "manure pile was the farmer's best friend," and proceeded to say that without stock there could be no manure pile, and since the farmer must keep stock it was wise to keep the very best.

He incidentally remarked that he had made 17 tons of ensilage to the acre at the cost of 75 cents a ton, and that the feed for hogs was clover in the spring, green corn in summer, peas from 15th of August to 30th of October and then turnips and artichokes until corn feeding time, which was in December. At the close of the reading of his paper Mr. Sandy was liberally applauded. He is no stranger to the readers of the HERALD, as our correspondent has been to his farm and given detailed account of its management.

And by the way, in closing, he gave a general invitation to visit him at his home and examine into his methods.

At 2 p. m. the Institute was again in session, when Mr. Barber examined different specimens of milk by the Babcock test, and then gave a practical talk on the building of siles, feeding cows and fattening pigs. He has his pigs ready for market at six months old and to weigh 200 pounds. Of course he makes some money.

This closed the business program, but before adjourning Mr. W. A. Barrow offered resolutions of thanks to Commissioner Koerner and his associates, Judge Crute, for his address of welcome, and to the citizens of Farmville for courtesies received.

And then a resolution empowering the Chairman to appoint a committee of five to present the claims of Prince Edward to the committee having in charge the selection of a site for a test farm in the tobacco section of Virginia. This committee is composed of Major A. R. Venable, Judge A. D. Watkins, W. A. Barrow, Jno. R. Morton and Wm. Garden.

There was not so large attendance of farmers upon the sessions of the Institute as was expected, but there were representative farmers from every section of the county, and good results will follow.

Let farmers all remember the words of farmer Barber: "The best way to fight trusts is to raise enough to eat at home," and good results must of necessity follow. Commissioner Koerner impressed our people most favorably.

Supervisors' Meeting.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Prince Edward Supervisors held last Friday every member was present. Accounts were allowed aggregating $700.75.

On motion the matter of building a bridge over Spring Creek, between T. P. Singleton's and J. S. Harris's, was referred to Messrs. Swan and Scott with instructions to have the same done.

It was ordered that a four room frame dwelling be erected at the poor house for use of paupers.

The following resolutions were adopted by the Board:

Whereas the late W. H. Thackston, as clerk of the courts of Prince Edward county, was ex-officio clerk of the Board of Supervisors, and whereas said Board desires to express its sense of the loss which the county has sustained by his death:

Therefore, be it resolved, that as an officer he was intelligent, careful, efficient, industrious and obliging; as a citizen, loyal and patriotic; as neighbor and friend generous and true. Possessing by inheritance and training the highest qualities of a refined and cultured gentleman, he loved what was good and scorned what was mean. His life was an example of honor, duty and truth. Such a man, though dead, yet liveth, not only as a sweet memory in the hearts of his fellow citizens, but as a perpetual illustration of the truth that "a good name is more to be desired than great riches."

Resolved, That this Board doth express its deep sympathy with his family for their irreparable loss.

Resolved, That an engrossed copy of these resolutions be signed by the chairman and each member of this Board, and delivered to his sister, Miss Ida Thackston.

OBITUARY.

We the members of the Alpha Chapter, Phi Sigma Delta Fraternity, desiring to express our grief at the death of our noble brother, Albert Percy Baldwin, and our appreciation of his high character, unanimously endorse the following resolutions:

1st. As a charter member we have known and loved our departed brother since our organization, and as the years have gone by and we have watched with pleasure the development of his character, his splendid social and business qualities, and his correct moral and christian life we had learned more and more to admire and love him.

2nd. That while we cannot possibly, with our eyes suffused with tears, see through the mysterious Providence which calls one away who was just fairly entering upon life, with youth, a chosen loved one and a bright outlook for the future, yet we would bow in submission to the edict of supreme love and wisdom. Perchance:

"We'll bid the broken threads again, And find again what we here began; And then, ah, then, we'll understand."

3rd. That we extend to his parents, brothers and sisters, and also to his sadly bereaved companion our loving sympathy, while we commend them to the keeping of the Father of us all who is "too wise to err, too good to be unkind."

4th. That a copy of these resolutions be spread on our records, printed in our town paper and sent to the family.

RALEIGH C. GILLIAM,
EDGAR T. HINES,
Fraternity's Committee.

Work is progressing fast on the Masonic building at the corner of Main and Second streets. When completed it will be one of the handsomest structures on our Main thoroughfare.

Death of Mr. Percy Baldwin.

The sad intelligence of the death of Mr. Albert Percy Baldwin was received as a great shock to his many friends here Sunday. He died at his home in Manchester after an illness of four weeks from typhoid fever. The fatal termination of the disease was a great surprise to those attending him, as it was believed the crisis had been safely passed. He was a young man of exemplary habits and but 23 years of age.

Mr. Baldwin was a native of Buckingham county and a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Baldwin, of Farmville. He went to Manchester to reside a year or two ago and with his brother, Mr. H. V. Baldwin, engaged in the dry goods business. He made friends rapidly wherever he went, and was as popular in his new home as he was here. Not many months ago he married Miss Alvia Owens, of Manchester, and is survived by his wife, his parents, five brothers and five sisters.

The funeral took place from the Methodist church, of Farmville, Tuesday afternoon at half past 4 o'clock, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Joshua Hunter, assisted by Rev. Dr. Harding and Rev. S. H. Thompson. The remains were interred in the Farmville cemetery, with members of his fraternity, Phi Sigma Delta, acting as pall bearers.

Turn on the Lights.

Editor Herald:—As chairman of the meeting of the citizens of Prince Edward held on August 4th, at Warham, I think it proper to correct the statement made in your last paper that you could not get an account of the meeting as it was a secret meeting. It was as far as I know the general wish of all present that the proceedings should be published. No one was excluded from the meeting. Other professions besides farmers were present and took part in the proceedings. This meeting was called by the "Farmers Union," of Rice, but they disclaimed having the intention of excluding other good citizens.

Yours truly,
J. R. MORTON.

The above from Chairman Morton is published with pleasure. The HERALD force is so absorbed with office work that it cannot always afford representatives at meetings held in places outside of Farmville, and is forced to rely, generally upon secretaries of such meetings, for authentic reports.

This we tried honestly to get this time, and from Mr. W. L. Clark, the secretary. He refused positively to furnish it, though he did hand in a resolution of respect to the late W. H. Thackston which was passed by that meeting, and which it was the pleasure of the HERALD to give to the public. To whom could we have gone save to Mr. Clark who was the custodian of the record? It would have been guess work from any other source, and the HERALD prefers to be accurate in making such reports. We regret that Mr. Clark, an intelligent and responsible gentleman, should have so misunderstood the "general wish of all present" as to have kept from the public, at least through the columns of the HERALD, what that "general wish" desired the public to know. The HERALD felt the loss of a full and accurate report of so important a county meeting, but having tried honestly to secure it, is not feeling the pangs of self reproach. "Turn on the light."

Superintendent Garden Endorsed.

MILLBRANK, VA., August 13, 1900.

Editor Herald:—At the annual meeting of the School Board of Prince Edward held August 6, 1900, our worthy county superintendent of schools, Mr. Thos. J. Garden, who has held the position of superintendent for 12 years, and as far as I know given entire satisfaction, was heartily endorsed for reappointment. Messrs. J. R. Morton, T. T. Pettus and J. J. Owen were appointed a committee to present this matter before the electoral board at the proper time.

J. R. MORTON.

Feldens Facts.

FELDEN, VA., August 16, 1900.

Editor Herald:—The dry weather is about to get away with the farmers of this vicinity. A great complaint of dry weather, though one old gentleman was heard to remark a few days ago that he was thankful to God that there was any weather at all, and I believe if we all had that feeling there would not be so many "blue farmers."

There are very few watermelons and comparatively few vegetables to be found in this neighborhood.

There was a "genuine old hayride" given by Mr. Eddie Rucker in honor of the Misses Clarke, of Lynchburg, (who are now visiting his home) on Friday night. The party consisted of ten, the night was an ideal one and with four good miles the young people went about ten miles, storming Hampden-Sidney as they passed. Next Monday night a party of twenty will start from the same place for the Farmville Lithia Springs.

Misses Lucile and Etta Clarke, who have been visiting this neighborhood for the past week, left Wednesday for Pamplin City to attend the "big picnic" to be given there Thursday.

Misses Maymie McCraw and Eddie

Keeton have returned from quite an extended trip to Crewe, Jetersville, Mt. Bush and other places.

Misses Cornelia and Mattie Jones are the guests of Mrs. Charlie Redd this week.

Miss Antysh Allen has returned from Norfolk where she spent most of the summer.

There will be quite a number of visitors in this neighborhood during the Presbytery. Among those expected are: Miss Martina Gallagher, Miss May Priddy, Meherin, Va.; Miss Besie Calhoun, Wythe county Va.; Miss Estelle Chappell, Smithville, Va.; Messrs. Frank Peatross and Epps Carter, of Danville, Va.; Benny Lee, of Norfolk, Va.; Misses Clarke, of Lynchburg.

Miss Ruby Ranson has returned from a ten days visit to friends at Meherin, Va.

Mr. West Dixon, a graduate of Hampden-Sidney college, is supplying the place of our pastor, Mr. Franklin, while he is in Paris. Everyone seems delighted with Mr. Dixon's services.

"Z."

Buckingham Budget.

SHEPPARDS, VA., August 14, 1900.

There was a much smaller crowd in attendance at last Buckingham court than is usual at the August term.

There was little or no business before the court and but for the political speeches and the horse trading everything would have been dull indeed.

After dinner a stand was erected on the shady side of the courthouse and Hon. H. D. Flood, nominee for Congress for the 10th District, and Hon. E. W. Hubbard and Judge Alex. S. Hall addressed the people on the political issues of the day. A noticeable feature of the speaking was the large number of colored people present and the respectful attention they paid to the speeches.

Mr. Flood's majority is predicted as anywhere from 2,000 to 3,000 in the District.

The New Store people had the pleasure of attending a circus at that place last Tuesday. It is needless to say they enjoyed themselves.

Farmers in our vicinity, like those everywhere in Southside Virginia, are beginning to feel dependent on account of the drought. But "while the earth remaineth, seedtime and harvest shall not fail," is the promise.

Our people sympathize deeply with Mr. R. A. Baldwin and family in their bereavement. Percy was a favorite at his old home in Buckingham.

Married July 26, 1900, at Barnwell, S. C., Mr. Wm. H. Jones and Miss Laura Bellingr. Mr. and Mrs. Jones visited Lynchburg, Washington, Richmond and other places of interest and spent a few days in Buckingham county before returning to their home in South Carolina. Mr. Jones is principal of the Barnwell (S. C.) school.

Mr. P. F. Jones, of Richmond, also spent a few days with his relatives in our county last week.

Miss Virginia Gilliam, of Richmond, is at home on a visit.

Quite a lot of our young folks have attended the tent meetings at White Hall the past week.

Dr. L. D. Jones has returned to his home in Missouri after a visit to the Buckingham folks.

Mr. M. D. Gannaway had an accident which caused him much pain, last week. He was felling a small tree which caught his left foot in some way and crushed two of his toes.
